1. Since the Chinese Communist forces occupied southern Liaoning Province, Soviet authorities have permitted the passage of travelers through their northernmost line 39°20' N in accordance with provisions of Sino-Soviet Treaty 14 August 1945 twice daily from 8:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. and from 3:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. All persons crossing the line are searched four times by members of the Chinese Communist Peace Preservation Corps; their luggage is then searched by Soviet authorities.
2. Police forces on the peninsula wear collar badges which bear the names of the districts in which they serve, i.e., Ta Kung Chu (大.公.局) (Dairen Bureau) and Lu Kung Chu (旅.公.局) (Port Arthur Bureau), and their code numbers. Municipal policemen wear white caps, members of the fire brigade wear red caps, the water (port ?) policemen wear green caps, and the rail-way policemen wear blue caps.
